Welcome to the 2006 Puget Sound Fresh Farm Guide

This is your guide to the fabulous farm products that are grown, raised or harvested right here in the twelve counties that border Puget Sound.

Our region produces a huge variety of delicious, beautiful & healthy FRESH foods throughout the year. This guide will help you find the best local products—and lots of ways to enjoy them!

Why Buy Fresh?

When you buy local, you help keep our farmers farming. A secure, healthy local food source is vital to the health of our region. Supporting our local farmers ensures that we will continue to have local farms producing the crops we enjoy many years into the future.

Healthy farms mean a healthy community. Farms help maintain the environment, clean air and open spaces we all enjoy, plus provide access to fresh, healthy foods for our families.

Enjoy the bounty of our Puget Sound region all year long. Check this guide and www.pugetsoundfresh.org to find hundreds of ways to enjoy all that is Puget Sound Fresh.

Using This Farm Guide

Here's the easiest way to find the best of Puget Sound Fresh!

1. Just check the seasonal guide on p. 5 to see if the product you want is in season. (Remember—seasons can vary depending on weather conditions!)
2. Find the farms and farmers markets in the listings that begin on p. 16. Listings are shown by geographic area. For more details, check www.pugetsoundfresh.org or call the farm.
3. CALL BEFORE YOU GO! That way, you'll confirm that the crop is ready and the farm is open.

Tips for Enjoyable Harvesting

1. CALL the farm before you leave home to confirm product availability and hours.
2. Bring plenty of containers.
3. Leave your pets at home.
4. Wear "grubbies" and sturdy shoes for U-pick.
5. Respect the farmer's property and follow any written or verbal instructions you are given.
6. Keep your children under control.
7. Have fun!

Want to Help Puget Sound Fresh?

Puget Sound Fresh participates in community events and activities throughout the year to help share information on local products with consumers throughout the region. If you'd like to volunteer to help staff our booth, please email: pugetsoundfresh@aol.com.

Mark Your Calendars NOW for Fall Harvest Celebrations

Every autumn, you are invited to experience the fun and country atmosphere during the annual Harvest Celebrations throughout the Puget Sound region.

Many local farms are open for visits and tours in September and October. Watch the Web site: www.pugetsoundfresh.org and your local newspapers for details and dates for your area.

Support Your Local Farms: Join Cascade Harvest Coalition Today!

Keeping our farmlands viable and in production takes all of us, working together. Your support of local agriculture is important, and critical.

Help make sure that agriculture continues to be a vital part of our communities. Join Cascade Harvest Coalition today. CHC works to provide agricultural programs such as Puget Sound Fresh, FarmLink and annual Harvest Celebrations, along with agricultural education programs. These programs increase public awareness and appreciation for the economic, environmental and cultural benefits of agriculture; promote preservation and protection of agricultural lands; enhance community food security and consumption of locally-produced food; and provide a forum for improving dialogue, collaboration and actions on issues related to agriculture in the region.

CHC is a 501 (C) 3 non-profit organization. Your dues and contributions are tax-deductible.

Puget Sound Fresh & Cascade Harvest Coalition

This 2006 Puget Sound Fresh Farm Guide is published by Puget Sound Fresh, a program of Cascade Harvest Coalition. For information on how you can become involved, or how you can list your farm with Puget Sound Fresh, call (206) 632-0606, or email: pugetsoundfresh@aol.com. Be sure to visit www.pugetsoundfresh.org and www.cascadeharvest.org.

What is "Puget Sound Fresh?"

Puget Sound Fresh, a program of Cascade Harvest Coalition, is your best way to find products that are grown, raised or harvested in the twelve counties that border Puget Sound. Look for and ask for Puget Sound Fresh products at your local grocery stores, restaurants, farmers markets and on-farm stands.

Support our local farms! When you seek out and buy locally-grown products, you help keep our farmers farming, protect the environment and help maintain the health and vitality of our region. Plus—you enjoy the freshest possible produce and add delicious items to your diet.

Check www.pugetsoundfresh.org to find the closest place you can buy Puget Sound Fresh products. You'll find a complete list of farmers markets, participating grocers, CSA farms and lots of recipes. Buying locally-grown products means you enjoy the bountiful, delicious products grown right here by farmers who dedicate their lives to providing flavorful, healthy food and flowers for our tables.

You'll be amazed at the quality, quantity and variety of locally-grown and produced products. Our local products are prized locally, throughout the country and across the world for flavor and quality. Puget Sound Fresh can mean fruits and vegetables, fish, shellfish, dairy, meats, poultry, wines and flowers. And a vast number of products made from these items.

So—look through the Puget Sound Fresh Farm Guide, and visit www.pugetsoundfresh.org. Then head on out to the farm! You'll find out why Puget Sound Fresh means Really Local...Really Fresh.

And remember: ASK FOR Puget Sound Fresh at your market. Tell them you support our local farms and want them to do so, too.

GET FRESH at a FARMERS MARKET!

Meet your Puget Sound Fresh farmers at the farmers market in your neighborhood.

Learn how your food is grown, direct from the farmers who grow it. Farmers markets give you a chance to meet our local farmers, and find out just what makes buying locally grown produce important.

Give your menus a whole new flavor—try one new item each week throughout the season. See why our Puget Sound Fresh products are known for variety, flavor, freshness and healthy benefits.

Most markets open in May—check the dates below. Some are even open year-round so that you can enjoy the bounty of the Puget Sound Fresh region any time of year.

Many of the markets offer special activities for kids, cooking demonstrations and entertainment in a family-friendly environment.

Try a CSA: Farm-Fresh Produce, Packed & Delivered Just for You!

If you love fresh produce, and like trying new ideas for delicious, healthy meals, then a CSA might just be your bag (or box).

CSA means Community Supported Agriculture. It's easy—you buy a "share" of a farmer's crop in the spring, and then get a big, beautiful box or bag of fresh produce weekly throughout the season. You'll enjoy the best of what's fresh that week, delivered either to your door or to a central pick-up point near you.

CSAs help farmers plan for their season, knowing their crops will have a ready market. And you get the freshest, healthiest produce available, enjoying a wide variety of the flavors of the Puget Sound region.

CSA farms are located throughout the Puget Sound Fresh area. For a complete list of local CSA farms, visit:
